Climax Sponsorship NACS Meeting

March 28, 2011 Climax Molybdenum is proud to be a Gold Level sponsor of the North American Catalysis Society's (NACS) 22nd Meeting to be held during June 5-10, 2011 in Detroit, Michigan. The North American Meeting (NAM) on catalysis is a world-class conference attracting scientists and engineers from industry, research institutes and universities worldwide.

Molybdenum-based catalysts play a vital role in processes such as desulfurization of crude oil, and selective chemical oxidation.

As a leading supplier to the catalyst industry, Climax has extensive experience in the production and application of molybdenum chemicals in catalysis.

We look forward to meeting you in Detroit. To arrange a meeting there with our technical and commercial staff, or with other questions, please contact us via climax@fmi.com
